² Asset allocation and balanced investment options and models are subject to risks of the underlying investments, which can be a mix of stocks/stock funds and bonds/bond funds. For more information, see the prospectus and/or disclosure documents.

³ Equity securities of small and mid-size companies may be more volatile than securities of larger, more established companies.

⁷ Benchmark index returns are supplied by Morningstar, Inc. There may be another benchmark that is more specific to each of the funds listed under the broad asset class. Please refer to the fund's prospectus for more specific information as to the fund's actual benchmark index.
